DUPLICATE THE LINE.

How the Union Pacific Will Try to Beat Senator Clark.

BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES! CHICAGO, April 14-[Exlusive Dispatch.] The railway war in the West may lead the Union Pacific to build an independent line from Los Angeles to Salt Lake City to parallel Senator Clark's projected line. It was stated unofficially today that if the San Pedro, Los Angeles and Salt Lake line could not be stopped, it might be duplicated.

In this connection, it was also rumored that the Rock Island's effort to obtain a San Francisco outlet might be checkmated by the building of a new line which would be 300 miles shorter than the proposed Rock Island route.

PRINCECHING'S COMMENTS. MAGNIFIED STORIES ABROAD.

BY THE NEW ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M. 1

PEKING, April 14.—[By Asiatic Cable.] Prince Ching says all his reports go to show that the missionary statements regarding arbitration in Mongolia are not supported by the facts. Neither does he believe that the rebellion of Gen. Tung Fu Hsiang amounts to much.

"It is the object of certain elements," he esserts, "to make it seem that China is in a condition of constant broil, rendering it unsafe for the foreign troops to be withdrawn. Those who have this in view will magnify a village quarrel into a big rebellion. The missionaries, naturally timid, take these reports in good faith."

The conduct of the ministers of the powers over the negotiations with the Chinese plenipotentiaries causes much adverse comment among the military authorities. Their dilatory tactics have prevented what might have been accomplished two months ago. Even now the meetings of the ministers are postponed for the most trivial causes. For instance, the desire of one Minister to go on a picnic to the tombs of the Ming dynasty prevented 'the holding of a meeting for a number of days. Then, M. De Glers and other ministers insisted upon celebrating Easter, and thus a week was consumed. In a third case, a visit of one Minister to Tien-Tsin held up negotiations for four days. These are fair illustrations of what has been almost continuous since the beginning. EMPEROR'S PRESENCE DESIRED. (BY THE NEW ASSOCIATED PRESS-P.M.) Manchuria, as the Russians reported great disturbances there, and it was not right that the task of quelling the trouble should be thrown upon the shoulders of one nation.

Finally, Prince Ching was assured that if the 20,000 Chinese troops could not suppress the disorders in Manchuria, other powers would send an international force to cooperate with China, which all the powers regarded as a friendly power. No reply having been received to this communication, L4 Hung Chang was today notified to the same effect, and told that Emperor Kwang Hsu must give an immediate answer.

CANAL NOT AMERICAN.

Neutrality Granted to Britain.

Secretary Hay to Have Clause Inserted.

Expert Opinion Declared to Favor Such Action.

Revision of Army Regulations Approved-Postoffice and Newspaper Premiums.

W ASHINGTON, April 14.—(Exclusive Dispatch.) Specific provision for the neutrality of the proposed isthmian canal will be made in the new treaty to be signed by Secretary Hay and Lord Pauncefote, the British Ambassador. This decision has been arrived at by the President and Secretary Hay after a most exhaustive contary Hay, after a most exhaustive c sideration of the arguments pro-con, which has convinced them t the highest interests of the cour demand the application of the princ of neutrality.

it will be lessened by the language employed, and the way it can be inter-preted in the light of other provisions to be incorporated. From the outset-of the negotiations, Great Britain has-insisted upon the principle of neutral-ity. The best naval and military ad-vice which the administration has been able to get has shown the necessity of neutralization, and the views of mili-tary and naval experts have been sup-way across their territory unless the principle of neutrality be absolutely conceded, and in this determination they have the support of other Central and South American States. The ad-ministration does not lose sight of the fact that the United States must respect the views of the States through whose territory the canal must pass, and this consideration, with other ar-guments in favor of neutrality, has convinced the President that no treaty should be negotiated that does not in-clude a specific provision establishing neutrality.

"Railways will do more to enlarge the prospective of the Chinese than any other agency. They will cause the people of the interior to travel and to acquire that breadth of view which comes from contact with the world. Now China is in great need of railroads, while the rest of the world is clamoring for broader trade facilities. The situation seems to have been created for reciprocal negotiations along a certain line.

"Railroads could be built by the powers on the basis of a 3 or 4 per cent. cumulative interest-bearing indemnity bond, until the claims of all the powers are paid. In after years a chance could be given the country of the failure of the Senate to act on the treaties, Gen. Kasson to retain office. As the administration has decided not to permit the signature of any more reciprocity treaties until after the ratification of at least one of the instruments by the Senate, there is now comparatively little work for Gen. Kasson to do. He has agreed, however, to resume duty. provided the Senate will at the next session ratify a reciprocity treaty or treaties. NEWSPAPER PREMIUMS CALLED IN QUESTION.

Madden Asks Four Hundred Publishers if the Stopping of Inducements to Subscribers Will Be Favored.

WASHINGTON. April 14.—Having repeatedly failed to secure remedial legislation from Congress to prevent abuses of the privilege of second-class mail matter, the Postoffice Department officials have under consideration the adoption of a proposed rule by authority of the Postmaster-General to bring about the desired referms. With this object in view, Edwin C. Madden, Third Assistant Postmaster-General, has ad-Assistant Postmaster-General, has ad-dressed a long circular letter to about four hundred publishers of newspapers and periodicals, setting forth the ob-jects sought to be accomplished by the proposed rule, and asking the follow-ing questions:

jects sought to be accomplished by the proposed rule, and asking the following questions:

"In the judgment of those addressed, will a departmental rule be regarded as injurious to legitimate papers and periodicals which will stop absolutely all premium inducements, direct or indirect, and of whatever character, for subscriptions? In other words, after a publisher has fixed a price on his publication, shall any bonus or premium given to the subscriber or any combination with anything except a second-class publication vitiate that subscription in its relation to the second-class rule as that proposed would be of great benefit to legitimate journalism, and that in a very large measure it will check this draft upon the public treasury for private advantage, with me compensation or public benefit, through the elimination of an immense number of publications which are wholly sustained in their second-class status by patronage induced by some extraneous thing in conflict with the spirit of the law. Such a consummation has much of promise in the direction of better postal facilities and cheaper rates for other classes of mall matter.

The circular asserts that the loss

The circular asserts that the loss of revenue to the government from the abuses of the privileges of second-class matter is enormous, estimated conservatively to be between $15.000,000 and $15.000,000 a year. Existing regulations, however faithfully administered, are inadequate to accomplish immediate reforms, and the most prolific means by which he law is circumvented remains undisturbed by regulation.

Of the many means by which publications not properly entitled to this favored postage rate spring into existence and thrive, no other, it is asserted by Mr. Maiden, is so fruitful and so insidious as the permission—not of law or rule, but of uninterrupted of law or rule, tice—that subscriptions may tice—that subscriptions may rice the first of premiums or meriadise, chances to draw prizes inssing contests, and countless instants inventions of similar characters inventions of similar characters. resising contests, and countless inrenious inventions of similar character. Circulations running into the thousands and into the millions, the fircular says, have been built up by this premium process for publications which, upon actual merit, could command no public patronage whatever.

Buch "subscriptions," except in an occasional instance where some actually meritorious publication employs the plan, represent in no literal sense, a public interest in the literature or in the news, to which it is claimed such publications are devoted.

Mr. Madden asks that the matter be given prompt attention, and says that the reform proposed can scarcely be carried on successfully without the aid and moral support of the standard newspapers and periodicals of the country.

Dr. Novy, who attends Hare, wear Dr. Novy, who attends Hare, wears a germ-proof rubber garment that covers him from head to foot, with two little eyeholes for sight, whenever he goes into the contagious ward, and he also injects preventive doses of serum into himself.

Dr. Vaughn told the board that Hare contracted the disease by an accident almost identical with that which occurred in Vienna in 1898. At that time, Prof. Nothajele and his assistant, Barisch, were conducting bacteriological experiments on bubonic plague bacilli. Basisch caught the disease and died, as did also Dr. Mueller, who attended him.

VIENNA, April 15,-(By Atlantic Ca. ble.] Emperor Francis Joseph has ful-filled a long-cherished desire of the Czech population of Bohemia by or-dering the establishment at Prague of a modern art gallery, toward the foundation of which he has himself do-nated 2,000,000 crowns. In a letter announcing the fact, His Majesty expresses a hope that he may succeed in establishing peace in the land through the conciliatory powers of art. He has also created eight new peers, all men of letters or representatives of the learned and artistic profession. The list includes, in addition Anton Dvorak, the Bohemian com-poser, Yaroelav Vrohlichky, the Czech poet, and Prof. Compero of the Uni-versity of Vienna, the translator of the works of John Stuart Mill.

MORGAN'S AID FOR MEXICO.

Wall Street Men Think a Gold Standard is Forthcoming.

IBY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES! NEW YORK, April 14-[Exclusive Dispatch.] It was stated tonight at the Waldorf-Astoria, where active Wall street men most meet, that the visit of J. P. Morgan to Europe has something to do with the interests of Mexico. It is even suggested that President Diaz has called on the New York financier to sound powerful foreign interests upon plans that may lead to the establishment of a new Mexican government financial policy, even a movement along conservative lines toward the establishment of a gold standard.

This is not wholly a new Wall street topic, as when the last Mexican funds were subscribed for by financial interests here and abroad, closely affiliated with J. P. Morgan & Co., it became a popular expectation that some sequel of unusual importance must ensue. Till now, however, no specific forecast has been current. Mexican railway securities have lately been much in evidence among New York stock exchange transactions.

IBY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES. EVANSVILLE (Ind.,) April 14.-[Exclusive Dispatch.] The bringing back to life of Mrs. Sallie Allen at the local hospital by an injection into her veins of a normal salt solution is widely commented on by physicians. The solution was nothing more than a teaspoonful of common salt dissolved in a pint of water. Mrs. Allen is improving, and the chances of recovery are in her favor.

Mrs. Allen had long suffered with abdominal trouble, and decided on an operation as a last resort to save her life. She was taken to the sanitarium Friday night, and when the operation was completed three physicians examined the woman's pulse and pronounced her dead. Nitroglycerine, strychnine and other stimulants failed to revive the heart's action. As a last resort Dr. Richstein opened a vein in the woman's arm and injected a pint of normal salt solution. GOING TO GET HER CHILD.

DENVER, April 14.—(Exclusive Dispatch.) The wife and little daughter of Emil Rivierre left tonight for San Francisco to meet husband and father. The money with which to make the trip was secured by Mrs. Rivierre from wealthy relatives in Brooklyn, N. Y. Before leaving, Mrs. Rivierre, whose spirits have recovered wonderfully at the prospect of regaining possession of the infant daughter, called upon Chief Armstrong. She told him she was undecided as to what she would do when cided as to what she would do when she reached San Francisco. If possible, she will dispose of the case there and then return to relatives in New York. Mrs. Rivierre is making the trip only to secure her child. PEORGANIZATION IN SAGHALIEN.

POMONA'S BATTLE YET BLOODLESS.

Southern Pacific Forces Dismayed. Armed Citizens Burned Campfires All Night and Watched for Foe.

POMONA. April 14.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] This was an unusual Bunday in this little city of churches, and the customary quiet was disturbed by wordy street discussions of the road a franchise on that street; was disturbed by wordy street discussions of, the events of yesterday. While there is a temporary lull in the activities of the Southern Pacific Company toward occupying the whole of First street, and robbing Pomona of her right, yet the fact that more railing the night, and are on a siding here, leads many to think that the Southern Pacific and will enter no protest when the Board of City Trustees meets when the Board of City Trustees meets of the sail are on a siding here, leads many to think that the Southern Pacific has not given up the fight. The newly-laid track is up to the barbedwire fence hastily built yesterday to define the city's property, but it is not a single inch over the line, and sime of the city's watchers are ever present. All through the damp, foggryight the little fires of the sentineis burned brightly at intervals along First street, from Rebecca to Gibbs struct, and the different shifts of men regularly took their turns at the street visit. Throughout the evening second street was thronged, and the

THE STAFF.

The temporary army of Pomona is divided into detachments in charge of Deputies Cowdery, Pedley, Thomas, Smith, Carter, Dunn and Dobbs, the whole body being under the command of City Marshal Esterly. There is an emergency detail of fifty picked men armed with rifles and shotguns, and fifty members of the Home Guards, fully armed; also 100 citizens equipped with revolvers and clubs. Many more men are sleeping in the hayloft of men are sleeping in the hayloft of Newton's livery, and others have stowed themselves away in the traps, coaches, carriages and other equi-pages in the stable below, while fully and with one ear open, attentive to the first peal of the fire bell, the sig-nal to herald the advance of the enemy. INTERCOLLEGIATE ORATORY.

The intercollegiate oratorical committee, composed of Dwight E. Chapin of Occidental. Le Roy S. Enyear: of the University of Southern California, and T. C. Gould of Pomona, met Saturday morning in the Y.M.C.A. building to arrange for the annual contest to be held in this city May 18. Dwight E. Chapin, the president of the intercollegiate association having won the local contest at Occidental, tendered his resignation, and Miss Dorothy Lewis of Occidental College was elected to fill the vacancy. Miss Lewis will Lewis of Occidental College was elected to fill the vacancy. Miss Lewis will have the honor of being the first woman to preside over an intercollegiate oratorical contest in the Southern California Association of Colleges. Six judges, three on thought and composition, and three on delivery, were chosen, but it was agreed that each contestan' should have the right to object to any judge until the 30th of this month, after which time no protest would be allowed. Last Wednesday the local association held a meeting in the chapel and chose Judge Waldo M. York, J. A. McDowell and Rev. E. A. Healy as judges of thought and composition for the local contest next Friday evening.

Bishop Hamilton has been elected to deliver the baccalaureate sermon to the graduating class.

Bible, there is no reliance to be placed upon the Pope.

The speaker related an incident of a Catholic priest who had been attending a series of lectures upon Bible prophecy. A Christian church member said: "We have great hopes of you," and the priest said: "You need have no hope of me, for if I become convinced that I am wrong, I shall become a Seventh Day Advent. Why? Because we have the Bible and the Pope. The Seventh-day Advents have the Bible and the spirit of prophecy. Unless the Pope has the spirit of prophecy, the Advents have the advantage."

Eider Owen declared that the re are a great many people world who are doing just that, joist, and sinew to sinew, that they orly out: Great and marvelous are y works. O Lord of Hosts! They not his faith, with all his impersions, making him meet some day rest in the bosom of Abraham. The street of the bosom of Abraham. The street of the str vantage."

Elder Owen declared that the "deadly wound" of the papacy will be "healed," but that it will never regain temporal power until the end of time. He will expand upon the subject at the next meeting next Sunday evening.

Y ESTERDAY morning. Rev. J. S. Thomson, pastor of the Independ-ent Church of Christ, in the Simpselected from the brook may represent the five departments of a human life, spirit, conscience, reason, emotion and body. When these faculties in all their subdivisions are educated harmoniously by study, by prayer, and by experience in the river of destiny, they can make their owner a successful champion in the terrestrial arena. Goliath represents the vanity of mere intellectualism, the boaster of artificial accomplishments, the folly of trusting in one's self. Life is an unccasing struggle from birth to death, and it is our duty to train children for the great contests and crises of earthly existence. This fight between the Philistine champion and the Israelitish champion is an old manifestation of an everlasting contest between right and wrong in individuals and in nations. Our modern champions in international diplomacy, in war, in trade, in politics, are successor's of David and Goliath. This struggle appears in the temperance contests in Kansas, in the friends and enemies of the great trusts, and the opposing forces stand on opposite hills, watching the struggle in the valley, and wondering which champion will win the day. In the modern struggles between religion and all forms of atheism and animalism, we can hope for victory for man's spiritual nature. Christ crucified gained the grandest victory over the hosts of sin. He lives and reigns in millions of hearts: but Pilate, Herod, the priests, and the deserters, sunk into eternal disgrace. Christ is the captain of galvation, and He must lead and reign till all His enemies are subdued."

It is good that is all our hope, whise forward to that perfection to one another: Beloved, it are appear what we shall be!' Christian has not reached that a perfection yet. If he had, and so the perfection yet. If he had, and so the perfection is learning to and what is walking? It is constant falling and catching again. The great question for ato ask is: Is the man honest? Sing in the right direction? Oh, heaven this world would be if so of us were half as good spect our neighbors to be."

Responsibility Shines.

Rev. PHILIP JAMES WARD preached yesterday at the Central Baptist Church, corner of Flower and Pico streets, from John v. 40: "Ye have life."

Mr. Ward said in part: "The Lord Jesus Christ, who searches all hearts, here brushes aside all the silly reasons which men give in explanation of their remaining in an unsaved condition. He treats their reasons and excuses as if they were nothing but flimsy cobwebs, as indeed they are. The only true explanation of your lack of raivation, said Jesus. Is this: 'Ye will not come to Me, that ye might have life.' It is true indeed that no man can come to Christ unless drawn by the Father, but it is also blessedly true of all in Christian congregations that God does draw them by the preaching of Christ's dying love and substitutionary death. The as yet unsaved person has had many calls to come to Christ's and Christ has come from heaven to cart to call him while he has not far to come to Christ, for there is only a step to Jesus, and that step the step of faith. The bitterest lament of the lost world will be the enforced admission by those cast away that they might have been saved, and that their blood is on their own heads, because in the days of their flesh they would not come to Christ. The time of salvation is emphatically the hour of coming to Christ. Years of coming to Christ the some

The greater the common wealth—the wealth owned by all the people equally—the greater the common weal or well-being. This is seen to be so. The nation of the earth having the greatest amount of equally-owned wealth is now, and ever shall be, the nation having the most well-being, the highest average of virtue intelligence and general comfort. I believe that the United States is that nation.

Our Divine Humanity.

REV. C. J. K. JONES preached yesterday morning in the Church of the Unity on "Our Divine Humanity." He said, in part:

"The church treats many of its greatest themes in a petty way, and rope more so than the status of our "The church treats many of its greatest themes in a petty way, and none more so than the status of our humanity. She is not leading the hosts of intelligent men and women who, in unnumbered ways, are seeking to know the meaning of this God-formed world, and universe, and of human lives as a part thereof. Too often have her efforts been directed toward calling back, and trying to prevent the progress of those who believe that there is a divine purpose throughout the whole universe, from starstuff evolving into suns and planets, up to the all-prevalling hopes and thoughts of men with all that is measured thereby. The church has too often postulated, and taught, that we are living as the surviving wrecks of a more perfect human nature, which existed in the golden-age of man's primal days. Carlyle was right when he said, 'We have taken up the fact of the universe as it is not. We have quietly closed our eyes to the eternal substance of things, and opened them only to the shows and shams of things. We believe the universe to be intrinsically a great, unintellible Perhaps.' In the fact that a Supreme Intelligence is in all and their affairs, I find the supreme reason for all our worship, our reverence, our hopes and our faith in immortality. "All phenomena of nature and of man—and our reasoning thereometed us that 'now are we the children of God, and it doth not yet appear what we shall be.' In saying this I do not assert that His will works by the same means of an organic brain, nerve and muscles; but I do say that in kind of mental operation, in kind of affection, in kind of moral nature, we are what we are because of a nature derived from God. This is to say, that in mental and moral likeness we are children of God, and it doth not yet appear what we shall be.' In saying this I do not assert that His will works by the same means of an organic brain, nerve and muscles; but I do say that in kind of mental operation, in kind of affection, in kind of meral nature, we are what we are convinced that the beauty and delig none more so than the status of our here, and bracing up we wear a smil-ing face, as though it was as bright in the soul as the glory of a sunny noonday in the realm of nature. Con-cerning our burdens there is recorded a very instructive precept. Our Lord commits us to one another's care and keeping. The precept is truly divine, for in bearing one another's burdens we fulfill the law of Christ. It is not His will that we should suffer alone. He knoweth that our need is that of com-passion, sympathy and prayer, and He has made provision for it in our fel-low-members.

The apostle here is not speaking of the physical, but of the spiritual. Development is a law by which we are associated; known by study and which becomes strong by growth. Growth presumes the existence of some substance, or truth, and when you speak of growth in grace you speak of something capable of development. The necessity for activity, then, in the Christian life is here made apparent. The law of grace comes to us that to develop—to grow—there must be activity along given lines. Grace handles all the virtues. There is a growth in depravity. We often hear or speak of the rapid downfall of some individual—the rapid and certain growth in depravity. If there is a growth in meanness and wickedness.

525 Prizes

Varying in Amounts

From $5 to $1500.

An Illustration: In the above showing, Miss Belle Morrison, of Florence (number 21 in the list), is credited with 2447 subscriptions. Florence is a small place and comes in Class Five. Nobody else working in Class Five has as many as 2447; consequently Miss Morrison stands at the head in that class, and if the awards were to be made today her prize would be $250 in real

But Miss Morrison is also working in Class Three, and has 624 subscriptions credited to her as coming from Santa Monica. And 624 is a larger number than is credited to anybody else in Class Three. So that, if the prizes were due now, she would get $600 in that class also, in Adding the 624 in Class Three to the 2447 she has in Class Five would place her (with 3171 subscriptions) number 8 in the General Class, the prize for which is the pianola and music from the Southern California Music Co., valued at $275.

Add the three prizes together-$250, $600 and $275-and the sum is $1125,

Now it is true, the three prizes are not all cash, and Miss Morrison might prefer "cashing" them as soon as that could be done. Suppose, in order to do that, she discounts them 10 per cent. She would still have over $1000 for her work, which has been done merely at intervals as she could spare the time from other duties. Many other young women, with quite as much leisure, have not earned as many cents as she has dollars in the same period of time.

The opportunity to earn as much, or more, than she, is still open. There is plenty of time. And there are still places-plenty of themwhere no canvassing at all (to speak of) has yet

The work is honest and honorable. The paper is well known, reliable and popular. THE OPPORTUNITY AND THE MAN

IX .- JOHN J. MITCHELL. W HEN eastern capitalists seek a Chicago outlet for their money they send their confidential agents, their engineers, their auditors and their legal counsel to report on the details. But when all the surveys are made and all the "expert conjugat".

are made and all the "expert opinions" are in then they come in person to lay everything before John J. Mitchell, whose judgment and sagacity outweigh much technical verbiage. Then they are ready to act.

No considerable financial operation has been worked in Chicago during the last decade—certainly none since the World's Columbian Exposition—with out an assenting opinion from his lips or the sanction of his remarkable judgment. But he is much more than adviser—his is the comprehensive mind in which are evolved the endless minutae of great financial undertak-ings; and small, indeed, is the detail, trifling the contingency, which he does not anticipate and provide against.

If the dynamic unit of Chicago financial life is sought for, go to room 9, Illinois Trust and Savings Bank, where John J. Mitchell presides. Mr. Mitchell John J. Mitchell presides, Mr. altenent began his career as a banker twenty-seven years ago, or, to be exact, on May 7, 1873, in an unpretentious little savings bank which led a precarious existence in a room at the northwest corner of Madison and Market streets, Chicago. He was 19 years old the day

November 2, 1854, and he may have inherited a love if not a genius for banking, for his father was then regarded as a leading financier and was president of the First National Bank of Alton. Being the son of a rich man, as wealth was estimated in those days, he had the advantages of a good home and the opportunities of education. His parents were of Quaker origin. It was a very old-fashioned household and the children seemed to flourish morally and physically in it.

When he was 18 years old he was sent to the Union Wesleyan Seminary at Kent's Hill. Me. and after two years to the Waterville Classical Institute, His father was willing if not anxious to have him complete his collegiate course and go to a university, but the son preferred to "do something." It was about this time that the Illinois Trust and Savings Bank was organized, with L. B. Sidway as president, William H. Mitchell had moved to Chicago with his family and was one of the original stockholders in the bank. John. coming home from school at this time, eager for work and with the advantage of a quick intellegence, a practical education and his father's good name, was appointed to a humble position in the bank. There-were not more than half a dozen clerks in it, and young Mitchell quickly displayed a willingness to turn his hand to the least attractive duties. He had the rare quality of concentration, and whether sticking stamps or doing what seemed then to him the important work of calling off items to the teller, he did it with his whole heart.

WORKING UP IN THE BUSINESS.

WORKING UP IN THE BUSINESS. Being modest and cheerful, the other clerks did not deny him the information they had spent years in mastering, and while he was running errands for the book-keeper, the teller, and even the collector, he was learning the details of each superior's duties, When Mitchell." When he first took in hand Mitchell." When he first took in hand the reins of management the capital of the little bank was only $100,000, and the stockholders, tired of its fallure to earn a decent percentage on their investments, were eager to wind up its affairs. Today its resources aggregate about $78,000,000, its stock commands an extraordinary premium and its name is a synonym for all that is safest, wisest and best in the banking and trust business of the United State.

its name is a synonym for all that is safest, wisest and best in the banking and trust business of the United State.

The young man—he is but 46—who has accomplished all this did it by no fierce and wasting efforts of his own or of others. He did not sit up nights or come to his desk at dawn, nor did he expect extraordinary performance of those associated with him. He did not fume or scold or worry when his bank was emerging from obscurity in the trying days of the early 80s, nor did he lose heart when to most of his board of directors it seemed that the struggle against powerful competition was too severe for ultimate success. The same imperturbable, gracious calmness which distinguished him then characterizes him now. There are no wrinkles on his brow, the light and colors of youth are yet in his face, and care has made no marks upon him.

For 'the last ten years he has been recognized as the representative financier of the great west. In London and Paris his name is better known than that of his bank. His splendidly-appointed offices in Chicago have been for years the informal meeting place of Chicago and western millionaires who made a practice of "dropping in" casually to chat over great financial projects, feel the pulse of the money world and "talk business" with the young bank president because they believed him to be the most alert, the most conservative and the best-informed financier of them all. James J. Hill. J. P. Morgan, James Stillman, Levi Z. Leiter. Marshall Field, P. D. Armour, W. L. Elkins, Norman B. Ream, John W. Gates, E. H. Harriman and other great factors in American financial affairs, past, present and future, have found his suggestions and opinions sound and profitable, and out of long and happy business relations of this kind have grown a unanimity of respect and regard for Mr. Mitchell whose independent 'minds brook little advice.

A recent special dispatch from Paris to The Times tells of an American artist there who enjoys the distinction of owning the most powerful and swiftest automobile yet made. It was built especially for him, and is of the same type as that famous "auto" named "Mercedes," which created such a stir two months ago at the Pau races. This machine, it is said, is faster still, being capable of going ninety-eight miles an hour.

This terrific pace is only feasible on a good straight road, and cannot be maintained safely for more than ten minutes, as the machinery would tear apart. But the rate of seventy-five miles an hour, it is said, may be sustained for hilf, an hour, and seventy miles indefinitely. The automobile is like a formidable engine of destruction. It is built low and very long, and has fifty-two horse power.

Such a machine as this opens up wonderful possibilities. Think of running down to Santa Monica in less than fifteen minutes, to San Diego in a couple of hours, to San Francisco in eight hours, or to New York in a little over forty-eight hours, and then a couple of hours, to San Francisco in eight hours, or to New York in a little

This is practically a new design of car and is similar to a large number being built for the Pittsburgh and Lake Erle and Rio Grande Western railroads.

An interesting test of the steel carfrom an economical standpoint is reported as having been made by one of the large castern lines. Six trains were sent out over the line. One was a combination train made up of all kinds of freight cars: another was made up of 80,000 pounds' capacity cars: another of 40,000 pounds' capacity cars: another of 50,000 pounds' capacity cars and one of pressed steel cars of 100,000 pounds' capacity cars another of 50,000 pounds' capacity cars.

cars; another of 80,000 pounds' capacity cars, another of 50,000 pounds' capacity cars, and one of pressed steel cars of 100,000 pounds' capacity. The tests showed that the train of steel cars carried from 12 to 20 per cent. larger paying tonnace, used less water, used from 14 to 59 per cent. less coal, and made the trip in better time by twenty-six minutes than its closest competitor.

Sô far as the cost of repairs is concerned one railroad reports that the total cost of repairs on 1000 steel hopper cars during ten months' service amounted to $1175.50. Of this amount $1019.39 was spent for repairs from accidents, and an expenditure of only $157.60 was due to ordinary repairs. In the cases where cars were damaged by accident wooden cars would probably have been entirely destroyed.

Although the birch forests are extensive, the fact that seventeen spool mills and a large number of so-called novelty mills are eating up the timber at the rate of from 35,000,000 to 40,000,000 feet annually excites the apprehension

The percentage of improved land there is small, amounting to less than the average in the whole country, or only 15 per cent. of the total land surface of the State, leaving 85 per cent. for brush. forests and waste land, and of this 64 per cent. is covered with forests. There is no State in the Union where there is such a large percentage of forests. New Hampshire stands next.

NEW PROCESS OF WELDING. OLD METHODS MUST GO.

The Worcester, Mass., Spy some time since gave an interesting account of experiments made there with a new welding process, as follows:
"Worcester steel and iron workers are taking a lot of interest in experiments carried on during the past faw weeks with a new welding com-few weeks, with a new welding com-pound.

"The experiments have met with unound.

"The experiments have met with unvarying success, and practical men say the old forms of welding compounds will have to take a back seat.

"Practical men who have conducted experiments with the welding compound here say that with the introduction of the new preparation the old idea of using borax will be relegated to the past For years even before a great majority of the present generation of blacksmiths and iron workers were born, borax has been looked upon as the only compound which could be used with any degree of success in work of this sort. All sorts of things have been placed on the market, but with indifferent success up to the present time, when experienced men, who were naturally prejudiced by experience against another innovation, are willing to state frankly that the new compound is the equal, if not the superior, of any welding compound they have tried.

"Aside from the fact that the compound produces equally as good results." pound they have tried.

"Aside from the fact that the compound produces equally as good results as borax, a much smaller amount is accessary to accomplish the same end, and as the price of the new compound is about half that of borax, the advantage to users of any considerable quantity of welding compound can be readily appreciated.

quantity of welding compound can be readily appreciated.

When it is taken into consideration that every institution where steel or iron are worked uses this sort of compound in greater or less quantities, and that in some of the places where considerable welding is done tons of borax or some welding compound are used in the course of a year, it is not difficult to understand how manufacturers feel in the matter, when satisfied they are getting offers you. MERN GALIFO C CO., Hos Aspile ntheran Synod to Meet in Los Angeles.

EN, J. E. HOICK, PRESIDENT OF LUTHERAN SYNOD.

Sunday, April 21, the programme will be as follows: At 9:30 a.m., Sunday-school rally; regular services at 11 a.m., and at 8 p.m., missionary service. Mrs. S. E. Bittle-Myers will preside at this meeting. A paper will be read by Mrs. W. E. Thomas of San Diego on "Children's Mission Bands," and Rev. William Kelly will deliver an address.

MISSIONARY ANNIVERSARY.

MISSIONARY ANNIVERSARY.
Simultaneously with the meeting of the synod there will be held the anniversary of the Woman's Home and Foreign Missionary Society.
The officers of the society are as follows: President, Mrs. William Kelly, Sacramento; vice-presidents, Mrs. G. Grunenwald, Mrs. H. Manch, Mrs. J. H. Cobb; recording secretary, Miss Mate Stuber; treasurer, Mrs. John C. Walling; historian, Mrs. S. E. Bittle-Myers.
The society will hold separate meetings on Thursday afternoon and Friday morning and afternoon, for which interesting programmes have been prepared.

Walked within, to be shot down on the spot. Daly fied across the line to Mexico, only a dozen miles distant. He was heard of last in South Africa. Six of the claims are patented. On one of them, the "frish Mag," a shaft has been sunk to the depth of 886 feet, with development work to the extent of 806 feet, all in ore, on the 750 and 850-foot levels.

COSTELLO SATISFIED.

The interests of the bonding company have been acquired by a newly-organized corporation, the Calumet and Arisona Mining Company, which has aiready marketed a million dollars in stock, with demand so keen that the last of the 100,000 shares of treasury stock offered were in active demand at 313 a share. And the sale lasted only a day. The new company will develop the property more fully to the end that ample ore bo blocked out for the great reduction works that are to be srected.

The corporation's representatives believe they have a bonanza, a mine worth millions. But Costello expresses himself satisfied with his deal. He is well content to sit in his little graggery on a Tombstone back street, smoking his short dudeen, talking with his old friend and faithful attorney, James Reilley, to whom he has presented $75,000 as a testimonial of appreciation of services rendered.

Most hair preparations are merely scalp irritants, miscalled hair tonics. When hair is brittle, iusterless and begins to fall out, the dandruff germ is getting in its deadly work at the root, sapping the vitality. Since science discovered that dandruff is a germ disease there has been only one preparation put on the market that will actually destroy the dandruff germ, and that is Newbor's Herpicide. It allays itching instantly, destroys the germ; and then tailing hair stops, and hair grows luxuriantly. Ask your druggist for Herpicide. It allays itching instantly; makes hair grow.

IRY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.1 SAN FRANCISCO, April 14.-[Exclu sive Dispatch.] After winning three bive Dispatch.] After winning three braights from the local team the Angeleĥos went down to a double defeat today, losing both morning and afternoon games by scores of 4-2, 6-5. Sunday seems to be an unlucky day and Swindells on third, drove a line hit along the right foul line very close to the bag. The umpire called it fair. Swindells scored and Brockhoff was safe at first. Capt. Hutchinson followed with a safe one to right. Brockhoff going to third. Eddle Householder then drove one over the fence, bringing in two runs before him.

The morning game was played at Oakland before a large crowd. The only scoring of the game was done in the eighth inning. The game was practically featureless, marked by clean fielding and a lack of timely hitting. It resolved ifself into a pitchers' battle. The afternoon game, played at Recording Park before a record breaking.

The score at the end of the seventh was 5 to 2 in favor of Los Angeles. Schwartz was first up, and was out from Kelly to Hutchinson. Krug got to first and Holland brought him in with a double to left. Pabst drove Holland in with a single to center, and Pabst scored on Nordyke's drive to the same garden. This gave the home team a lead of one run, which was sufficient to win the game, as Los Angeles failed to score again.

ST. VINCENTS TEAM. The baseball team of St. Vincent's College has resumed practice, which was discontinued during the Easter was discontinued during the Easter holidays. Saturday afternoon two interesting games were played between the first and second teams, both being won by the first team by the scores of 5 to 4 and 8 to 2. A game has been arranged for next Saturday between the St. Vincents and Long Beach High School. It will be played on the college campus in this city, and as both teams are well matched, it should prove a close contest. The college team made their appearance Saturday in new sults of light brown trimmed with crimson.

Wide-Big Tournaments of the East Noted Players.

Golf circles have been very quiet during the past week, the only event at the Country Club being the regular weekly gentlemen's foursomes, which were finished yesterday. that no player ever went against such a difficult hazard as did 'Mel' Greeley in the international series the other day. Mr. Greeley placed his second shot in the third hazard. The ball fell on a chip of wood and then rolled with the chip into a hollow. When Mr.
Greeley took his mid-iron and went into the ditch to play out he was astonished to find the chip, on which the ball rested, lying on the top of a large-sized water moccasin, which was colled up in the ditch. The day was rather cool, and his snakeship was not very lively, and after recovering somewhat, Mr. Greeley played a short stroke off the snake without disturbing the reptile, and then went back and killed it with his mid-iron."

The intercollegiate golf tournament will be held on May 8 to 11. In addition to the universities of Yale, Harhave always competed, the University of Pennsylvania will enter a team. The tournament will be played upon the course of the Atlantic City Club.

Vardon has two matches booked for April—with "Jack" White and James Braid, the two strongest players of the younger set in Great Britain. Personally, Vardon fears Alec Herd more than any player in England or Scottland, but Herd never has challenged him. Braid beat Vardon twice in 1899, but White never has scored against him. Vardon said while here that his game had improved; the matches will tell the story.

teil the story.

In the opinion of Walter J. Travis, the amateur golf champion, Bermuda grass is excellent for putting purposes. He made this discovery while playing recently at Belieair and Tampa, where Bermuda grass was used for the first time as an experiment. In a recent number of Golf he gives his ideas of the subject as follows: "I understand that the admirable quality of the Belieair putting greens is largely due to the fact that the long, trailing creepers are kept clipped short, and the result is a close, firm sod that only needs rolling and the use of the lawn mower to present a true, smooth and reasonably keen surface, and the brassle lies through the fair green are almost invariably playable. It is even possible to take a divot in making an approach shot, and every golfer knows the value of such a stroke."

James A. Tyng played the Baltusrol course in eighty-four strokes on Washington's birthday, which is really a wonderful performance. It is the lowest the course has ever been played in during the winter season, and beat his Lincoln's birthday score by two strokes. Tyng was the only scratch competitor for the Twin Holiday Cup contest, and he won everything hands down. His total gross score for the two events was 170, twenty strokes better than the second best net score. tell the story.

Billy Woods would make a good man for Al Neil and would give him he scrap of his life. But Neil is fastidious and draws the color line. There is a possibility of getting on a go between him and Jim Tremble, which ought to give everybody a run for his money. Toby Irwin is a good one and should he win his fight with Herrara, would prove a fine drawing card in this city. It would be quite the proper thing to match him with the winner of the Walsh-Banks fight, which is scheduled to take place in Turner Hall about the 29th. They could fight at about 126, and both of them be good and strong. to arrange for a two days' event, in which Hank Griffin and Joe Kennedy will be the principals on one night, with Al Neil and his opponent, either Billy Woods or Jim Tremble, on the other. If Neil will withdraw his objections to fighting with a colored man, there will be no trouble in arranging the matter. It is probable that Tremble will be no trouble in arranging the matter. It is probable that Tremble will be only too anxious to get into the game again with Neil in any case. The prospect that Jeffries and Ruhlin may fight for the championship has again loomed up. New articles of agreement, similar to those of the proposed fight at Cincinnati, are to be signed, giving Jeffries the privilege of naming the date for the encounter. The club making the best offer for the fight is to get it.

Without intending to cast any reflections on the earnestness of Jeffries and Ruhlin, which was plainly enough shown at Cincinnati, it might as well be said without beating around the bush that the championship fight is just as far away as it was two months ago. The re-signing of articles of agreement is really a mere matter of form, and not a thing contained in the Cincinnati articles has been altered. Ever since Jeffries and Ruhlin left Cincinnati they have re-ceived a certain number of offers, none of which were satisfactory.

The puglists by chance were in St. Louis at the same time last weak, and the new articles of agreement will attract attention to their desire to engage in a championship bout. But there is nothing actually new about it. There are no new offers, and the only hope for a championship go lies in California, where the game is none too secure.

Jeffries and Ruhlin will probably meet eventually, but both have their horses's head up, like I told you? Don't you know he can't run unless he is held hard?

(Jockey:) Yes, I know that, and I tried to hold him in for all I was worth. But I had to reduce my weight to ride him at 107 pounds, and it took away all my strength, so I could not hold him together.

They are a different lot of chaps from that out at Riverside and down at Santa Monica. They are "out for the stuff" all the time—like a fellow hunting for a rich widow with a bad cough. The Riverside Polo Club has just put the finishing touches upon its new grounds, situated om Magnolia avenue, and it is to be inaugurated by a race meeting during the first week in May. They have constructed a track around the polo ground. The opening day will be a game of polo in which the home club will contend against a club from Santa Barbara. The second day will be devoted to a game of cricket, the third will be a racing day and the fourth a lawn-'ennis tournament. The racing programme will be for purses of $50 each, for which no entrance fee is charged. The open events are a half-mile dash, for horses of all sizes, with 130 pounds on each; a half-mile for galloways (horses over 14 hands and not exceeding 15,) with 140 pounds as topweight, with 4 pounds allowed for overy half inch under 15 hands; and 440 yards for ponies (14 hands, 2 inches and under.) with weight for age. In all probability the galloway racing would become popular if more generally introduced. It would certainly be so with breeders, as it would create a market for a type of horses that are now almost unsalable. The Oakland Tanforan regency goes in for short races, light weights and big profits for the bookmakers, and it seems almost as they do not intend to spoil a good thing.

With Denver and Kentueky out of it, California and Nevada have the bidding all to themselves.

Unless a good-sized guarantee is hung up by Stuart, it is doubtful if the Carson City proposition would be considered seriously by the boxers. They realize, of course, that there would be more money in a bout at San Francisco, and it looks as though the final bidding will resolve itself into a keen competition between the two clubs on the Pacific Coast.

Both of these clubs are in a position to offer good inducements to the fighters, and either organization would be satisfactory to the princioff" a race, besides pulling a horse back. Not one horse in twenty "gets the rope" that is predestined to lose. All the boy has to do is to ride differently from the "parting injunction, bestowed with great unction," which he received from the trainer; and it is 20 to 1 that he does not come better than fourth, if there are six horses in the race. Again, suppose the crooked boy is put up on a heavy-headed horse, like Advance Guard, for instance. If he wants to lose, all he has to do is to let the horse well jump twenty-four feet at one jump and about twenty the next, with no regularity of action. Then he can come in whipping him unmerelfully, and all to no purpose. Here is a sample of conversation after the race has been lost by a hot favorite:

(Trainer:) What made you go out and set the pace? Did not I tell you not to urge your horse till you had gone three-quarters of a mile?

(Jockey:) Well, it was a big field, and when I got off in front I thought I might as well stay there. I was so afraid of laying back and getting pocketed.

Here is another specimen trick:

(Trainer:) Why didn't you keep that horses's head up, like I told you? Don't you know he can't run unless he is held hard?

(Jockey:) Yes, I know that, and I tried to hold him in for all I was worth.

There is now every probability that there will be ten teams in the league, and even at this early date the Tournament Committee is looking forward to a match with the big San Francisco organization.

All of the alleys in the city are being enlarged as rapidly as possible, and there will be no lack of conveniences for the league. Tomorrownight the first game will be played on the alleys at the Chutes, when a team representing those slievs and the Imperials will come together at mines. Tuesday night the Tournament Committee, which has in charge the organization of the city league, will make its report at the meeting of directors of the Southern California Bowling Association.

"You can tell a new bowler every time," said an alley-keeper last week, "by the way they slide over the foul line. An old bowler knows that the line is put there on purpose, and is not an accident to be disregarded. The old man comes up to the line, story there and rolls his ball from the content of the content line. An old bowler knows that the line is put there on purpose, and is not an accident to be disregarded. The old man comes up to the line, stops there and rolls his ball from that point. The beginner, on the other hand—the 'dub'—doesn't see the line at all. He runs up to it and then siddes three or four feet down the alley before he lets go of his ball. It gives him an undue advantage over the man who lives up to the game, and, worse than that, it ruins the alley. If a man has nails in his shoes, and most of them do, it is absolutely disastrous to the polish. And then the first man to kick about the roughness will be the 'dub' who has done the damage himself. slow but sure appliances may be numbered the now almost universality recognized aid, the coaster brake. It was on the market two years before it became well known; but its popularity is now assured. In an undulating country it is essential, because it combines the duplicate action of a brake and a Tree wheel; while even where all the riding is on the flat it effects a very considerable saving of power. Beside these qualifications it has two other commendable ones. It can be applied to any wheel, ancient or modern, and it is cheap.

As between chain and chainless wheels the relative demand thus far this season is about the same as in past years. The dealers pushing the chainless report satisfactory sales, while the old chain wheel continues to hang on with greater tenacity than was expected when the chainless was first introduced.

The styles in bicycles for this season have not changed particularly, and the styles in bicycle costumes will also stand, so that last year's outfits will not be at all behind the times.

For middle-aged persons who find the vibrations of a pneumatic-tired wheel objectionable, a new style of cushion tire has been devised and is meeting with distinct approval.

about twenty-five entries, and some good games will probably be played, as several of the young lady collegians are excellent racquet swingers. There has been some talk of the winner challenging the lady champion of Pomona College, but no definite steps have been taken as yet. Frances Thompson won the local championship last year. Her strongest rivals for the honors this year are probably winifred Healy, Florence Bannister and Jessie Wood.

Carl Williams, the representative from the university, and Terry Reynolds of Pomona College have decided to hold the men's intercollegiate tennis tournament at Santa Monica. Three singles and two doubles will be played. The date of the meet will be arranged at the meeting of the intercollegiate committee which will be held today.

Claire Enyeart, '03, has been elected manager of the baseball team in the place of Charles Broderson, who tendered his resignation. Erwin Miller still retains the captaincy. There is plenty of good material in the various departments of the university, and Manager Enyeart will probably soon have a creditable team in shape to compete with the other college teams of Southern California. Arrangements are being made for a game with the ball tossers of the Catholic college.

At this waron of 'the yeer when 'tha course is seen in its emerald sheen,' the new grounds of the Riverside Club will be found particularly attractive to lovers of really good sport.

Mr. Stover's three-year-old Kenil-worth, by Sir Modred out of imp. Queen Beas by Marden, has so far proven himself the most consistent performer in America by winning his last nine races. On Saturday last he beat Articulate at six furloogs in 1:134, with 117 pounds on each, winning by a head, as he does in all his races. He was ridden by Nasa Turner with most excellent judgment, and, while Articulate probably ran the best race of his like, Kenliworth always he'd him safe. Kenliworth's dam also produced that good colt Prince Tyrant, who won $1125 in two seasons, but he

Paul Flammer is disconsolate and refuses to be comforted, and it is all because a prisoner escaped from him Saturday afternoon. Flammer got the man's hat, but that is the only memento he has of the experience which u to Saturday was foreign to him. Flammer is regarded as one of the best detéctives on the Los Angeles force. Therefore he feels disconsolate and chagrined because a man once in his clutches escaped him. The man who escaped is Gurdine Horton, and if he is recaptured he will face two charges instead of one. The manner of his escape, as well as that of his arrest was unique, to say the least, and this, too, adds to the disconsolation of the detective.

About a year ago Horton is alleged to have swindled several persons. A warrant was sworn out charging him with obtaining money by false pretenses. Horton, it is alleged, made a hasty exit from Los Angeles, and thereby escaped prosecution for the time. A few days ago the police learned that he had returned here and was driving an express wagon. Then commenced a still hunt. It fell to the lot of Flammer to find the man. Paul Flammer is disconsolate and re time. A few days ago the police learned that he had returned here and was driving an express wagon. Then commenced a still hunt. It fell to the lot of Flammer to find the man, and he found him with the wagon. With the presence of the express wagon, there was no necessity for the patrol wagon, so Flammer jumped into the vehicle and announced to the astonished Horton that he was under arrest. He then ordered his prisoner to drive to the Police Station. The drive continued to the corper of First street and Broadway. There, without bidding his captor adieu, Horton leaped from the wagon and dashed north on Broadway. Flammer was nonplussed. With the hat of his once prisoner in his hand, and a horse and express wagon on his hands, he did not know just what to do. When he saw Horton turn east on Franklin street, all hope fled from the breast of the detective. He staked out the vehicle and horse and proceeded on foot to the Police Station. There he presented Horton's hat and made his report.

Not long afterward a man with a worried expression on his face appeared at the Police Station. Below is a copy of his poem in full, written on the occasion of the removal of the Kentucky dead from Mexico to their native State after the war with

JOHN A. BUCKNER. THE BIVOUAC OF THE DEAD.
(Written by Theodore O'Harry in 1847.) The muffled drum's sad roll has beat The soldier's last tattoo;
No more on life's parade shall i.eet
That brave and fallen few.
On fame's eternal camping ground
Their stient tents are spread,
And glory guards, with solemn round,
The bivouac of the dead.

Now swells upon the wind; No troubled thoughts at midnight

Their shivered swords are red with rust,
Their plumed heads are bowed;
Their haughty banner, trailed in dust,
Is now their martial shroud,
And plentious funeral tears have washed.
The red stains from each brow,
And the proud forms, by battle gashed,
Are free from anguish now.

The neighing troop, the flashing blade,
The bugie's stirring blast;
The charge, the dreadful cannonade,
The din and shout, are passed;
Nor war's wild note nor glory's plea
Shall thrill with fierce delight
Those breasts that never more may feel
The rapture of the fight.

Like the flerce northern hurricane
That sweeps his great plateau,
Flushed with the triumph yet to gain,
Came down the serried foe,
Who heard the thunder of the fray
Break o'er the field beneath,
Knew well the watch word of that day
Was "victory or death."

Long had the doubtful conflict raged O'er all the stricken plain, For never flercer fight had waged The vengeful blood of Spain; And still the storm of battle blew, Still swelled the gory tide; Not long our stout old chieftain knew Such odds his strength could bide.

Twas in that hour his stern cor Called to a marty's grave
The flower of his beloved land,
The nation's flag to save.
By rivers of their father's gore
His first-born laurels grew,
And well he deemed the sons pour Their lives for glory, too. Full many a norther's breath has swep O'er Angostura's plain— And long the pitying sky has wept Above its mouidered slain. The raven's scream or eagle's flight, Or shepherd's pensive lay, Alone awakes each sullen height That frowned o'er that dread fray.

Sons of the dark and bloody ground, Ye must not slumber there.

Where stranger steps and tongue re sound
Along the heedless air,
Your own proud land's heroic soil
Shall be your fitter grave;
She claims from war his richest spoil— The ashes of her brave.

Thus 'neath their parent turf they rest Par from the gory field, Borne to a Spartan mother's breast On many a bloody shield; The sunshine of their native sky Smiles sadly on them here, And kindered eyes and hearts watch by The heroes' sepulchre.

Rest on, embalmed and sainted dead:
Dear as the blood ye gave;
No implous footsteps here shall tread
The herbage of your grave;
Nor shall your glory be forgot
While fame her record keeps,
Or honor paints the hallowed spot
Where valor proudly sleeps.

Yon marble minstrel's voiceless stone
In deathless song shall tell,
When many a vanished age hath flown,
The story how ye fell.
Nor wreck, nor change, nor winter's blight,
Nor time's remorseless doom,
Shall dim one ray of glory's light
That gilds your deathless tomb.

HERMOSILLO (Sonora,) April 11 .-[Regular Correspondence.] The Copeta mine, in Ures district, twenty-eight 000,000 capitalization, organized under New Jersey laws. The main stock-holders are William Melczer of Redholders are William Melczer of Red-lands, Cal., and Phoenix, Aris., presi-dent; J. J. Hardwick, former owner of the mine, and George A. dent: J. J. Hardwick, former owner of the mine, and George A. Treadwell, one of the best-known of southewstern mining experts.

The mine is far from being a new one. It has been worked for over a hundred years for gold, the ore being reduced in crude Mexican furnaces, only possible to operate where labor is as cheap as it is in Mexico. The property has been owned by Hardwick for many years. He worked it by the usual processes of the country, and even thus managed to pay expenses. Latterly, however, seeing the need of capital, he secured the cooperation of Melczer and Treadwell. They bonded the mine to a New York company for 13,000,000. Some delay occurred in a payment on the bond and the partners were quick to resume possession of the mine, which they had come to appreciate as worth far more than even the immense sum named.

The Copeta Company appears to have secured all needful capital. Now ready to start is a new water-jacket furnace of 200 tons daily ore capacity, which is expected to turn out more than twenty tons of metal a day. This would mean a value of $6000 in copper alone. The product valuation is considered a minimum, for the ore will run, in considerable bodies, 16 per cent. In copper and four ounces to the ton in gold. Seven carloads of ore sent to the El Paso smelter, brought returns of $700 a carload, there having been, in addition to the copper, four ounces of gold to the ton. Ten thousand tons of ore ready for stoping averages 10 per cent. copper and $10 a ton gold. The ore is mainly very base, in the form of copper pyrites carrying 46 per cent. sulphur. Some of the upper lying ore, however, is of free carbonate character. The word "Copeta" is of Indian derivation, and means "crested head." The crested head of the hill wherein lies mainly very base, in the form of copper pyrites carrying 46 per cent. sulphur. Some of the upper lying ore, however, is of free carbonate character. railroad from Naco shall have been completed.

The Mexican Gold and Silver Recovery Company has completed a new forty-ton smelter near Makape.

Thomas Bentiev of Minas Prietas has sold the Dewey and Esmeraida de Dewey mines near Willard, on the Sonora station, for $100,000 gold.

Dr. A. C. Wright of Sahuaripa, formerly a member of the Arisona Legislature, and Dr. S. Williams of Hermosillo, are reopening up a once-famous old mine, near the former's home. The Tejada, as the "antigua" has been known for hundreds of years, was abandoned by the Spanish miners because of water that could not be controlled with the primitive appliances known for hundreds of years, was abandoned by the Spanish miners because of water that could not be controlled with the primitive appliances available. Records show that the mine was once a wonderful silver producer. Around the old shaft lies: the ruins of a town that must have had a population of at least 5000. Many of the buildings and walls are of slag from the old-time smelting furnaces. Allan T. Bird of Nogales, who visited Sahunripa lately, writes that "The upper workings extend along the ledge about a fourth of a mile and go below water, the surface of which is 150 feet vertically underground. In these old works are great chambers, from which thousands of tons of ore musa have been taken. Such ore as has been left gives about 20 per cent, lead, with 60 to 80 ounces of silver to the ton in the second-class rock, and $600 to $1000 silver in the first-class ores. The new workings, run by Drs. Wright and Williams, consist of a tunnel and upraises, run to penetrate the old workings from below and drain the water. At a distance of 190 feet from the entrance the tunnel cut a ledge of good silver ore four feet in width. Turning at right angles, the tunnel follows the vein 250 feet, and three upraises therefrom are 40, 60 and 160 feet, respectively. The ledge in the new workings averages 80 ounces of silver per ton, and a small streak of shipping ore which goes from $400 to $2400 silver per ton. The experimental shipment of two and a half tons netted $1984. When the owners succeed in draining their mine, thy will doubtless uncover a big bonanze. Later advices tell that the old workings have finally been reached from below, and that the greater part of the water has been drawn off, though much mud and débris remains to be cleared away before the old silver workings can be again uncovered,

Five other "antiguas" in the same district have been purchased by a company represented by Capt. George Christy of Phoenix and George Beebe of San Francisco. With the mines which are gold properties, go 4000 acres of fine timber

H. S. Kneedler of Iowa, editor and owner of that clever little magazine, the Optimist, is at the Hollenbeck. He is the author of the booklet, "Through Storyland to Sunset Seas," issued by the Southern Pacific Railroad five or six years ago, when he was connected with the passenger department of that corporation. Mr. Kneedler hopes to remove his magazine and publishing business to this city.

The funeral of the late George Gephard, whose death occurred Friday, was held yesterday at the family residence, No. 238 North Grand avenue. The services were conducted by Rev. Dr. Wilkins of St. Paul's Episcopal Church, of which the decased had for many years been a member. Many of the members of the Pioneers' Society were in attendance. The remains were conveyed to Evergreen Cemetery, where they were interred.

Monroe Elligan and Emmett Robinson, colored newsboys, are charged by the police with petty larceny. Last week nine boxes of cigars were stolen from a tobacco store on Broadway, between First and Second streets, and the police allege the boys arrested are responsible for the theft. Elligan is said to have sold two of the boxes for 13, in a First-street pool room, squandering the money in playing pool. When arrested he bad several cigars. Confederate Veterans.

The Confederate Veterans of Los Angeles, Cal., Camp 770, held their monthly social meeting at L. M. Lloyd's residence, No. 829 Figueroa. street, Saturday evening, having Gen. Death of Dr. E. E. Barr.

Dr. E. E. Barr died at his home, No. 620 East First street, at 8:15 o'clock last evening, after an illness of about four weeks. Consumption was the cause of his demise. Dr. Barr had been a resident of Los Angeles for more than three years, having come here from Chicago in November, 1897. The object of his leaving Chicago was to regain his health he improved so materially here that he resued the practice of his profession, but overworked, and broke down a few weeks ago. He grew rapidly worse until he died. Besides his widow, he leaves a son, Elmer E. Barr, 6 years old.

Union Thwarted. Union Thwarted.

Members of the Los Angeles Union of Musicians have been, or will be, thwarted in an endeavor to secure a monopoly in the work of furnishing music for the Flesta during the visit to Los Angeles of the President. It is admitted that they made the endeavor, but the demand for musicians, and there can be no monopoly. The contract for furnishing the sweet strains will doubtless be given out this week. At least this is the understanding of the union men. It is probable that all the available musicians and bands in the city will be employed.

Old Resident is Dead. Old Resident is Dead.

Francisco Castillo, 70 years old, and a native of Los Angeles, died Saturday evening in his room at No. 838 Maple avenue, from an attack of the grip, aggravated by gangrene. The family, with whom he lived, notified the County Hospital authorities of the death, and requested that the body be removed. When the matter was brought to the attention of the Coroner, Clerk Strubel called at the house, and had the remains taken to the undertaking pariors of Booth & Boyleson. It appeared that while ill with the grip, Castillo bruised his leg by getting in and out of bed, and gangren; set in. Dr. Holland will issue a death certificate.
